CALSHUM REVIEW

VOLUME 10 CLAREMONT, ALTA., FEBRUARY 11, 1915 NO. 51

TO BID SOME BOYS FAREWELL

Last Thursday evening a number of men met in the parlors of the Queen's hotel and entertained a few of the men who will be on Friday last to join the Mounted Rifles at Macleod. About sixty men were present and a good program took a part in the program which was a very informal one. Mr. W. Moffatt, M. P. P., took the chair and called upon many for short speeches. Those called upon were: Major Holmes, Inspector Tucker, Major James, Mr. Guy, Mr. Riout, Mr. Stephen and others.

Others sang and some danced or gave readings. The singing was done by Messrs. Corbitt, Capt. D. A. McKinnon and Shortland, and Miss B. Guy, who sang "It's a long way to Tipperary".

Mr. Cunningham of Meadow Creek presided at the piano and also assisted in the singing. About twenty of the proprietors of the hotel served sandwiches and ginger ale. After a few more songs and a vote of thanks to Mr. Guy for being so liberal as to give the house over to the boys for the evening, all sang the National Anthem and broke the party up at about eleven o'clock.

LETHBRIDGE WINS DEBATE

In the semi-finals in the provincial High School debating league which were held last Friday evening, in which Clarendon Agricultural school competed against Lethbridge High School, the latter was victorious by nine points.

The debate here took place in the lecture room of the Agricultural school, after an instrumental selection had been rendered by Miss Malchow. The question was "Resolved, that Canada should adopt the Austrian system of compulsory military training."

W. Hempel and W. Drollinger defended the affirmative for the Agricultural school against Miss Dunlop and Miss McPhee of Lethbridge. The ladies surpassed the boys in deportment and delivery and won their side by four points.

After the debate Miss Donnelly gave one of her highly appreciated recitations; also Miss Clark gave a well rendered solo.

Messrs. Carney and H. Stenroos, of Lethbridge, to defend the negative of the same subject in that city but were defeated by five points.

Precipitation Figures in Southern Alberta

Although 1914 was a dry year in Southern Alberta, the precipitation figures for the Lethbridge district show that an unusual amount of a nature fell in the last five months of the year. This exceptionally heavy moisture at that time of the year has put the land in excellent shape, and augurs well for the crop of 1915.

The figures for precipitation month by month in 1914 are:

January	1.55
February	.96
March	1.12
April	.84
May	.29
June	2.18
July	.86
August	3.59
September	1.07
October	1.07
November	.63
December	1.19

Total 19.14 inches, which is about twice the 13 years' record.

POTASH IN AGRICULTURE

For many years the Standard mines in Germany have been practically the sole source of the potash compounds used for fertilizing purposes on this continent. Among the well-known fertilizers from the present war, there may be mentioned the cutting off from the markets of the world the supply of this material. Dr. Shutt, Dominion Chemist, regards this circumstance as not so serious as it seems, may consider. In order to place his Draw for the Moffatt Cup, which is only specially called for by flower, potatoes, roots and leafy crops generally. There is yet some potash in the market though it will probably have to be purchased in the form of fertilizer. We have several Canadian sources of potash available to the farmer—notably lime manure, wood ashes and seaweed materials rich in this useful constituent and which are more or less readily obtainable in many parts of the Dominion.

And lastly, there are the direct potash fertilizers, which do not add to the sum total of the salts potash yet may serve a useful purpose by liberating it in available forms and thus in times such as the present may help to tide us over until potash compounds are once more on the market.

Mrs. W. R. Lindsay Passes Away

It was with deep regret that the many friends of Mrs. W. R. Lindsay learned of her death which occurred at Nanaimo Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Lindsay was a resident and one of the most highly respected ladies of Clarendon, for the past eight years up to last October, when she went to stay with her daughter, Mrs. Mason, of Nanaimo.

Her kind and affectionate disposition, and her thoughtfulness for others, built for her a most beautiful character, which everyone could not help but admire.

She had been confined to her bed almost constantly since being with her daughter, and death came as a relief after her intense suffering of the past few months.

Mrs. Lindsay leaves to mourn her loss, her husband W. R. Lindsay, and one daughter Mrs. Mason.

The funeral will take place from the eleven o'clock train Friday morning. Interment in the local cemetery.

Doings of the Week At the Police Court

Corporal Searle, on a charge laid by Stanley Wyatt of theft of grain, arrested C. D. Tolpelt, on Monday February 1, Tolpelt was let out on $700 bail and appeared last Friday.

At the conclusion of the trial which lasted the greater portion of the day, Inspector Tucker sent it to bind him out board and room in the pen at Macleod, for one month with hard labor. H. O. Haslam appeared for the defence.

On Friday last R. R. Smith, hustler, who was taken into custody by Constable Peor, for attempting to kill his father, was committed to the R. N. W. M. P. barracks, at Macleod, pending the order of the Attorney General.

Pearle Brannwell, of High River, after spending Monday night in the barracks, on a charge of vagrancy was fined $10 and $4.00 costs and let get out of town on the night train Tuesday, with warning.

Yesterday O. W. Caldwell and D. Siples, farmers of Willow Creek, were arrested by Corporal Searle and Constable Peor on a charge of theft of goods from a local auction sale which was held Tuesday. They are lodged in the barracks awaiting trial which will be held tomorrow morning.

MORE NEWS FROM "DUO"

Bulford, Salisbury Plains.

This is Sunday so I made up my mind to stray a few lines. You will see by the above address that we have moved again. This time into a regular cavalry barracks, and it sure is some place after living under canvas. You should see the stables, there are some spikes and sun, and if you should have a straw out of place you get a bawling out proper.

We are soldiering for a fair now, but think that it will be better, as we are told that we will be at the front by the fifteenth of February for sure. I see that the Princess Pals have been into it and made a pretty good showing.

I was down to London for six days, getting back a week ago today. I had a pretty good time, saw lots of shows and had plenty to eat. The way I put the chicken, beef steak, ham and such like out of sight, was not slow.

I had an accident about three weeks ago. I had a little argument with my horse and he jolted me up a bit. The doctor thinks I may have to go to the hospital for a while, but I am feeling much better now. Well old boy, I suppose you're having all kinds of skating now, while we are getting all kinds of rain. This week we had a wedding in camp. Lieutenant Edminston got married to a Miss Allan from Ottawa, and a large time was had. The whole squadron turned out as an escort, and the next day there were pictures in the Daily Mirror.

The Sketch and The Chronicle. I must close now, so write soon and remember me to the boys.

Your old friend,
"Duo".

P. S. Tell "Mac" and "Red" that I get shaved here for four cents, but have to tip the barber another ten or he will pull one's face off.

A PERIOD OF REST

In the fall of 1914 many dairy cows died of somewhat earlier than usual on account of scarcity of food. Others stopped milking because their owners have let them get the habit of putting up their shatters at the same time that the cheese-factory boarded up its windows. However long the period of rest may have been six weeks or four months, cows will be ready for business as usual during 1915. Now the point arises, can the period of rest be extended? That means only 90 pounds the first month. The first one may be dry in a little over seven months and then settle down to extended repose, while the second cow will be producing for ten months, enabling her owner to take Advantage of good prices in fall and winter.

Obviously, therefore, correct judgment as to a cow's production, to be based on a knowledge of the total weight for the season, not for best month or two only, for that period of rest is a very valuable factor. Keeping track of the weight given by each cow is simplified by using the forms supplied free by the government. Write to the Dairy Commission, Ottawa, for samples of the record forms for three days per month, and those for daily weights. It will be still better to take samples as well, so as to learn by the test how much fat each cow gives.

Sleigh Drive to a Farm House

The members and friends of the Epworth League of the Methodist church, assembled at the church on Tuesday night about fifty strong and made up a very pleasant sleighing party. The sleighs were towed to accommodate the crowd. The destination the party being at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grob, some four miles north east of town.

Arriving at their destination about nine o'clock, they were very hospitably received by their host and hostess and at once were given the freedom of the spacious rooms for the evening's enjoyment, which was spent in games, social chat, singing, etc.

A very pleasing lunch was served about midnight, to which justice was done by all present, after which the teams were again hitched to the sleighs and the homeward journey was made without any undue misadventure. All conceded that it was one of the brightest evenings of this character, which had been spent this season.

Protestant Church Sleigh Ride

Taking advantage of the favorable weather and splendid roads, the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church held a sleighing party last Monday night. Starting from the church at 7:30, four sleighs drove out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Towne. The hosts had made thorough preparation, and the large crowd of about fifty were well looked after. Most of the evening was spent in parlor games and their success reflected great credit on the ladies who supervised. Refreshments put the crowd in humor for the long trip home.

One sleigh load, composed of students from the Agricultural school was conspicuously hilarious. Several of the young ladies showing marked ability as skiffers. A very pleasant event was concluded very early in the morning.

A SUCCESSFUL CARNIVAL

The first Carnival held at the local risk on Wednesday evening was very well attended, considering the weather conditions which prevailed.

The costumes were very varied and presented a somewhat gaudy appearance ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous, but withal rendering a height of color and brightness to the scene which was very pleasing. Most of the costumes reflected the fact that a great amount of time and thought must have been spent upon them to bring them to the degree of perfection which was attained, in fact so much was this manifested that it was a very different matter for the judges, Messrs. Chas. Both, S. L. Fraser, J. A. Gaudin, to arrive at a decision as to who to award the prizes, but after due consideration, the following were declared to be the winners, and the judges are to be complimented upon their choices, which met with the approval of the majority of the crowd of spectators.

Come lady, Miss Gibbie; come gentlemen, "Mac" McKinnon; best skater in costume, Miss Gaudin; best gaudy skater in costume, W. Harvey; best boy's selection, Nat. Steer; best girl's selection, Miss Dorothy Colburn.

There were very many other costumes of high merit, but time will hardly permit of mentioning individually each one. The music which was furnished by the band, was very much appreciated by the devotees of the great winter sport and helped to make the time pass very pleasantly both for the spectators and those who indulged in skating. Altogether the evening was one of those very pleasant social affairs which pass all to witly.

Are Editors Cheerful Liers?

Did it ever occur to you why editors are such cheerful liars? The cross road town today would boycott the man who dared to tell the truth and nothing but the truth in a country newspaper. Strange as it may seem to some, editors as a class are born with a conscience, but as they run up against the lying public who have some selfish motives, and then their early training at their mother's knee is too often forgotten in the scramble for the almighty dollar.

Major Steel head has a ten penny with twelve present. She asks the editor today there were fifty present and a four course banquet followed. Mr. Blomhard, another editor, says that the public expects the editor to be a smooth liar and whitewash his neighbor's soul.

Next comes the "angel-toned" scandal monger, of the female persuasion, who has ruined the lives of many young girls, and who has kept the social circles of the town in hot water for years by the use of her deceitful, lying tongue; she becomes an angel in the columns of the newspaper the moment death paralyzes her and the golden streets of the New Jerusalem become the scene of her scandal mongering activity.

A preacher may be an ordinary pulpiti-ponder, and a bore to the community, but every time he talks the editor is so good if he fails to say "the sermons are musically deep and dramatically interesting."

Every "stinky" entertainment must be grand, every school must be perfect, every business man progressive, every city had religiously perfect, every war honor a valuable acquisition to society, and the climate must be delightful, the men the most public spirited in the province, or the paper is not worth reading, and the editor is to blow.

If an editor fails to conform to these standards of public deception and downright lying, he will not have a friend in town, and yet the town looks for a pure press!

Is it any wonder under these circumstances that the editor lives in a hell on earth and dies with nothing better in sight.

HANGING PICTURES.

The Old Rule and Origin of the Term "On the Line."

People will speak of pictures being hung "on the line" at the Royal Academy, but very few indeed, even among the present-day art connoisseurs, know the origin of the term. The common belief that it implies a place on the wall on the level with the picture is more or less correct. But when the exhibitions were held in Somerset House and Trafalgar square the term meant something far more definite. In those days people not only spoke of pictures being hung "on the line" but "above the line" and "below the line." "Above the line" was then a superior and permanent feature. It was a horizontal line exactly eight feet from the floor, marked by a projecting ledge that left the surface of the wall below it two inches in advance of that which was above it.

A picture was said to be hung "on a line" when the top of the picture was level with this line. "Hanging thus," says G. D. Leslie, R. A., in "The finer Art of the Royal Academy," "the picture, unless a very small one indeed, was exactly at the height to be viewed comfortably by the general public."

The rule in old times was that all very large pictures, as well as whole length and half length portraits, had to be placed above the line, and the tops of their frames resting on the ledge which marked the line, but so lower. The rule was thus a compromise, no pictures breaking through it either on above or below.

Origin of "Navvy" Workmen. The seventeenth century canals or navigations gave rise to the term "navvy," a term very slowly evolved from "navigator." There are many country public houses in England still existing that testify to the navy's early designation on their sign. "The Navigator Arms," which depicts a brawny laborer with a spoke in one hand and a foaming pot of beer in the other. But you may search England through and through and you will not find a "Navvy Arms." Curiously enough it is the navy who makes our roads so obtained his designation from diggers out canals, the canals were all heeded as a designation in a great body of statutes—the "road act." But it would have been his nickname if railways had come before waterways—London Express.

The Judge's Mischief. A serious case of shop robbery, tried some years ago before Chief Baron Green on the last day of the Squire's sessions, resulted in its acquittal. The chief Baron, addressing the sheriff, said: "Mr. Sheriff, is there any indictment against this innocent man?" "No, my lord," was the reply. "Then you'll greatly oblige me if you don't let him out until I have half an hour's start on my way to 'America'—London Mail.

Bolling a Fish. In bolling any fish, you should put enough water in a large pot to enable a fish to swim in it. The fish were alive. At this water half a capital of meat, a half a dozen were alive. A whole onion, one dozen whole black pepper, one blade of mace. Take any fish and boil it in a new piece of cheesecloth fitted with the shape of the fish. Put in water and heat slowly for thirty minutes, then let it boil for ten minutes. Unwrap and serve with drawn butter made from the liquor in which the fish was cooked and add to it the juice of half a lemon.

Yes, There Is MONEY in EGGS

Have you ever stopped to think that a hen will lay 150 eggs a year. Certified statistics tell us that it costs like a dozen to produce eggs. People in the business say that fresh eggs average 45c a dozen. This leaves a net profit of 30c a dozen. 30c net on 150 eggs is $3.75, which you should make net profit on each hen. If you had 1000 hens it would be $3,750 you should make net profit. If you are earning less than this amount per year, come to my office and let us talk the matter over. You can buy a model farm for $150 cash, the balance spread over a term of years. Model farms are all cleared—no stumps or stones to contend with. They are situated on the main line of the Canadian Northern Railroad, are connected with the city of Kamloops by a good automobile road; the Hydro Electric Line of the city of Kamloops passes through the property which will supply light and power. Model farms are situated right on the bank of the North Thompson river, which supplies ample water for irrigation. Model farms are cleared farms. The price is only $150 an acre or $750 for five acres. $150 cash and balance spread over five years.

Fill out the coupon below and mail it to me at once, and I will send you further particulars.

5,000 Facts About Canada

"Know Canada! make Canada known!" is a striking sentence in the War Year edition for 1915 of that popular booklet "5,000 Facts About Canada," compiled by Frank Yeigh, of Toronto who knows Canada as probably few Canadians do. It is true that he who would know Canada, and its wonderful growth in only one year, will find this annual publication worth its weight in Yukon gold or Cobalt silver, while as a means of making the Dominion known to other countries, it is no less valuable. Fifty chapters are devoted to such subjects as Agriculture, Arts, Banking, Census, Immigration, Mining, Manufacturing, Trade, etc., and a page of Canadian War Facts show how up to date it is. Sketch Maps are included of the Dominion in 1867 and 1915. Copies may be had from progressive news-dealers, or by sending 5c. to the Canadian Facts Publishing Co., 588 Huron Street, Toronto, Canada.
